Opinions

A note from the publisher

You ever get the feeling that government policies don't make very good sense? Take some of these contradictions and tell me if they are the product of rational thinking processes. The federal government last week barred the Austrian president, Kurt Waldheim, from visiting this country. Why? He's suspected of having been implicated in the deaths of partisans and civilians in World War II as a German

Should we then bar all murderers from visiting our country? What about Ferdinand Marcos, former president of the Philippines, who was convicted of murdering a political opponent of his father? He not only visits our country, he lives in our country.

What about General Fabian Ver, Mr. Marcos' top military henchman? He is accused of murdering Benigno S. Aquino, the slain husband of Philippine President Corazon Aquino. General Ver, like his boss, is living very comfortably in this country, though he is wanted in the ongoing murder trial in Manila.

What about South Korean President Chun Doo Hwan, whose troops murdered hundreds of South Korean civilians in the infamous Kwangju Uprising? He comes and goes freely in this country, and is expected this spring on yet another state visit. Do we have a policy against admitting murderers and suspected accomplices or just a policy against Waldheim? Or take the Reagan Administration's stand on three short films produced by the Canadian Film Board-Canada's state-supported film producer. The films-"If you Love this Planet," "Acid from Heaven," and "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery"-cannot be shown in this country unless the exhibitor labels them

"political propoganda." The first film is about the consequences of nuclear war; the second two are about the consequences of acid rain. Certainly no one likes to dwell on the consequences of either, but banning films that deal with these subjects is not the best way of limiting the consequences of our own technological mindlessness. While the administration bans films about acid rain, Americans can watchon TV or in movie theaters—the most inane, violent, or chauvinistic trash, much of which is as harmful to human sensibilities as acid rain or nuclear fallout is to life in general.

And speaking of what we're allowed to see or read, the government has already banished eigarette advertising from TV; now they seek to banish it from newspapers. One would almost think the government had our health in mind, except when you recall that the government gives tens of millions of dollars each year as subsidies to tobacco farmers. Then there's the trade bill passed by the House of Representatives last week. According to this bill, which the President-thank goodness-says he'll veto countries that sell us substantially more than they buy from us will have to do something to correct that imbalance or we will impose countervailing tariffs, as the President did to Japanese electronics goods recently. Does this mean that our trade with every country must be in balance? Even with countries where we sell considerably more than we buy, such as Israel? What about countries, such as Colombia, where we buy billions of dollars worth of cocaine, but where the people are generally too poor to buy very much from us? Does this mean an end to the cocaine trade?

Maine Congresswoman Olympia Snowe sees the trade bill as a way of saving American jobs. Granted shoe factory jobs are pretty good jobs, but is it written in the Ten Commandments that we will have shoe factory jobs until the end of time? Are they not other good jobseven better jobs? Here at The Citizen we're looking for willing and energetic apprentice graphic arts workers to learn camera work and paste up and to learn to run our printing presses. These jobs have a better future than shoe jobs, and we're willing to re-train displaced shoe workers. So are any number of other print shops. There are plenty of new jobs in Maine that are going begging. Last week the Reagan-backed Contras killed an American, Ernest Linder, of Portland, Ore., in Nicaragua. There are 2,000 Americans in Nicaragua helping the government there with community service projects. Does it make sense for

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Telstar baseball teams would like to express their gratitude to the Athletic Boosters for their generous gift of our new homerun fence. The teams also thank Western Maine Supply Co. for the contribution of fence support posts. We dedicated the first homerun hit by a Telstar player (Perry Hart) to our gracious benefactors.

To the Editor:

Acknowledgement of Ned Hasting's letter in the April 22 edition of The Citizen is in order, in which his bi-partisan opinions were so freely expressed.

Reversing the coin, I too am entitled. and do indeed deem it a precious freedom for the opportunity, to express my thoughts concerning my forefathers. I am also sure if all the Bryants who are now gone could stand before you, you would see why I feel obligated to speak out for them, as they are no longer able to speak for themselves. I do not feel that I have "attacked" Mrs. Emery, or anyone else. My opinions have been stated as I see them, and in no way, or at any time, did I, or have I, tried to undermine the value of Mrs. Emery's work. In this one particular area, I felt it an obligation to my family to speak out for what I believe in.

It is not appreciated that many of my thoughts have been misunderstood, or the intent of their context been questioned by anyone.

I would hope that after reading this letter, that anyone who is not concerned with the issue not feel compelled to jump into the arena, and imply that my opinions are, and were, anything but genumely sincere.

Louise Bryant Foster Loring

To the Editor: To the family of Eleanor C. "Boots" Morton:

Occasionally, but not often enough, a person comes into our lives who shows us how to rise above life's meanness. One of life's joys is that one never knows when or where one will experience that kind of inspiration. Who would have expected that so many of us here at Gould Academy would find it in one who serv ed us every day in our dining hall? Though she would have scoffed at the notion, Boots was a great teacher. Her subject area, which seems deceptively simple, was a positive attitude toward life, and she mastered it. We miss Boots our government to pay money to Contras to invade Nicaragua-a country with which we have diplomatic relations—and kill Americans? This is outrageous. I realize that it's an imperfect world, but it seems our government is trying to make it more imperfect.

While I can get heated up on a number of subjects, I'm not one of these people who can get moralistic about the weather. To hear some people talk, there's good weather and bad weather. As I see it, there's just weather-wet, dry, cold or hot. I refuse to make value udgments about the elements. Therefore I didn't complain last Wednesday when I walked out of the house for my morning newspaper and sank into 10 inches of snow in my driveway. I didn't even complain when I noticed that my morning paper hadn't arrived yet. I know that if the roads are passable, Mr. Henley delivers the paper. So I assumed the roads were not good for travel. And, in fact, when I made my weekly Wednesday trip into Lewiston to have our paper printed, the roads were not good at all, and school authorities were wise in cancelling school. However, aside from that I didn't real-Iv mind the snow. In fact, it was quite nice to be able to see yellow daffodils and forsythia against a white background and newly green willows standing with their fresh pastel buds draped with snow. And as the snow melted, the grass underneath looked especially refreshing.

And remember, the early run-off this spring did away with the water we need in our streams and in our wells. This late snowfall was really just what the doctor

UMO offers 3-day course on wood drying skills

Wood products are a mainstay of the Maine economy, and that mainstay is faced with a major problem. Whether in western, southern or northern Maine, 80 percent of the difficulties of working with wood are related to improper moisture content.

To address, and help correct, these problems, the University of Maine's Forest Products Laboratory will be conducting its 21st annual Wood Drying Short Course May 12-14 (Tuesday through Thursday) at the Skowhegan Cooperative Extension Office.

The program is designed to improve the knowledge and skills of kiln operators, managers and others involved in the drying of wood. The specific needs and concerns of the participants are identified at the onset of the program, and a day of basic knowledge is followed with two days of applied subjects. A format of informal presentations allows ample time for questions and answers, and individual problem-solving.

Management personnel, architects, contractors, lumber salesmen, retailers and people thinking of starting their own wood products businesses have benefited from the short course in the past. More than 480 people from 181 companies have participated during the past 20 years.

will be Jim Catterick, of Ontario, the leading authority on drying white pine: and Maurice Roy, of Vermont, who manages the largest custom kiln-drying operation in the east. Other professionals from Oregon and Florida will join in presentations with forest products faculty from the University of Maine.

Reservations for the course may be made with the Conferences and Institutes Division, Chadbourne Hall, Orono, or by calling Richard Hale, coordinator for the short course, at 581-2883.

RETIRED TEACHERS TO MEET

The Oxford County Retired Teachers will meet at the Oxford Legion Hall on Saturday, May 16. Social hour starts at 10:30 with the business meeting at 11:15. The afternoon program will be Randall Bennett speaking on the architecture of Oxford County.

The Scholarship Fund fundraiser will be a plant sale.

It's also very timely medicine given this country's short memory of the mistake we made by getting involved in Vietnam. Claiming we were saving the freedom-loving people in southern Viet-nam from the Chinese-backed communists of northern Vietnam, we changed the Saigon government to suit our needs and devastated the countryside in order to maintain a toehold on the Asian mainland. The result, of course, was loss of the toehold, loss of prestige, and loss of hundreds of thousands of lives—about 50,000 of them Americans, For the Vietnamese, it turned out they disliked the Chinese at least as much as the Americans and are now quite independent, albeit communist.

Unless we change our antagonistic attitude towards Nicaragua, we are going down the same fatal path: first we use mercenaries to do our lighting, then we use neighboring countries, finally we commit American GI's. The outcome can only be that all of Central America will become embroiled in our effort to control the region, and all of Central America will turn against us.

The Maine Municipal Association will sponsor a series of Elected Officials Workshops throughout the state during the month of May. The workshops are designed to help elected officials understand their municipal roles and responsibilities, and become better informed on municipal matters. Topic areas to be discussed are the Right to Know Law, General Assistance, Municipal Liability, Municipal Finance and Personnel/Labor Relations. The Maine Municipal Association feels these workshops are extremely important for elected officials. There is no registration fee for the workshops.

OHJHS 8th-grade shows progress on statewide test

The 8th-grade at Oxford Hills Junior High School did better on the statewide achievement test this year than the 8thgrade last year. The results were released by the SAD #17 superintendent's office this week.

Last year's 8th-grade performed at or above average (compared with other similar schools) in reading writing and science, with an especially good showing in writing. Last year's 8th-grade performed below average (compared with other similar schools) in math, social studies and humanities.

This year's 8th-grade was able to improye in the areas where the 1985-86 class was weak, but social studies scores were still below statewide averages. This year's 8th-grade did particularly well in reading and writing.

The scores of the OHJHS 8th-grade on the statewide achievement exam were as follows:

· Reading: 300, compared to 250-285 in similar schools statewide; Writing: 285, compared to 235-270 in similar schools statewide; · Math: 280, compared to 265-300 in similar schools statewide;

· Science: 235, compared to 240-275 in similar schools statewide: · Humanities; 200, compared to 260-300 in similar schools statewide; The tests were administered to the 8thgraders statewide last November. At OHJHS there were 303 8th-graders; the scores of 279, or 92 percent of the class, were included in the test results.

The statewide achievement tests were mandated by the Legislature as part of the Educational Reform Act of 1984. They are given at three different grade levels-ith, 8th and 11th-grade. They were administered for the first time in 1985-86. This is the second year they are being administered. The 8th-grade scores are the first to be released this year. Still to come are the results of the 4th-grade exams and the 11th-grade exams. Of the 8th-graders taking the exam at OHJHS last fall, 54 percent were girls while 46 percent were boys. On average, the girls scored significantly better than the boys in reading, writing and humanities. The boys scored significantly better than the girls in science, and somewhat better than the girls in math and social studies.

On average, those students whose parents graduated from college did much better on the exams than did students whose parents did not graduate from colege. On average, the students who did worst on the exams were those whose parents did not graduate from high school.

Nancy Nye and her Potato Garden Puppet Theater was a great success. Ms. Nye presented four different stories: three for grades K-3, and three for grades

In addition to enjoying the stories, the children learned about puppetry: props, music, costumes, etc. For two shows an assistant from the audience was needed. Audrey Tikander from Grade 1 volunteered for the first presentation, and Joseph Webb of Grade 4 ably assisted for the second presentation. Keep a watch for more news on Joseph. He will be participating in the Special Olympics wheel chair racing to be held at Gould Academy on May 18.

Keep the date of Friday, May 8, in mind. Students in grades 4-6 will be presenting a science fair and will be in the gym from 1:30 to 2:30. Parents and friends are welcome to come and view

Despite achievement tests, regular schoolwork continues. The fifth graders current book report consists of reading their favorite book from early childhood-out loud to the class. This is not so easy as it sounds. Remember that many children's books were written to be read to children, not necessarily by children. Before reading to the class, each student has to practice orally to make sure of pronunciation and proper expression. Rachel Abbott, Andrea Pratt, Joshua

Walton have already read their stories. Rebecca Abbott and Joshua Walton have alrady received answers from their letters to Maryland, Nevada and Idaho. The rest of the 4th-graders are anxiously awaiting their answers, so we can get started on a special social studies

Mr. Loveless, our physical education teacher, has measured a mile long track around the school in preparation for grades 3-6, who will be running the mile. Grade 2 is studying about farms and the children who live on them. They will be incubating eggs, hopefully hatching some, and will be making a model farm. The latest special month constables in Grade 2 are: Joshua Dunham, Lucas Hiebert, Jason Eastman and Alicia Boutot. Congratulations for finishing your month mysteries! Grade 4 is working on division, oral book reports, finishing up the CAP program and looking forward to the annual field trip to our capital, on May 28. The students will visit the State House, the Blaine House, and the Maine State Museum. This is a culminating activity for their Maine studies. Our secretary, Alta Pierce, and our assistant, Heidi Everett, will be in looking forward to having more Great Books groups. We are also congratulating Mrs. Pierce on the latest arrival in her family. Her daughter and Things have been back in full swing this week. The goals are centered around safety, and include several different ways to stay safe-from fire safety to playground safety to personal safety and more. Plans include showing the moving "Strong Kids, Safe Kids," which is offered at Groan and McGurn free of charge. It's a great movie for families to watch together at home.

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

The staff and children visited the Rumford fire station last Thursday. They had a good time.

The goals next week will be centered around Mother's Day and more on safety. The glowing six-year-old star of the week is Jenny Mae Wheeler, of Bethel. Also, this is Nick Merrill's last week with us. He and his family are moving to Norway. We will all miss you. Nick. There will be no Head Start on May 22.

The Greenwood Fire Department was called out to a fire at the Fred Curtis place, Hayes Hill, Tuesday (April 28). They requested help and received it from Norway, West Paris and Woodstock, A great deal of hose was needed to go up the hill from the pond at Greenwood City as the water had to be pumped up from there. The auxiliaries provided coffee and doughnuts for the men, and supper to those who had to remain to watch for flarings after the fire was out. The main building was a total loss but a trailer attached was saved except for the door. Memorial Day will soon be here and although it falls on a different day we should follow a tradition and wear a little poppy in honor of the veterans who made the supreme sacrifice. The money from the donations is used for the American Legion Auxiliary's child welfare program and to help the needy veterans and their families. Poppy Days cancer fund on her road and Cleo Ryerin Locke Mills and Bryant Pond will be May 15 and 16.

The Greenwood Auxiliary of the fire department will meet this month one week earlier, on Monday, May 18, at 6:30 p.m. at the fire station.

Stewart and son, Anthony, from Jay. Charlie and Jeannette Knight went shopping in Oxford and later played carits with Charlie's sister and friend in South Paris Friday evening.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Monday evening with Flossie Bernier, Sally Melville, Barbara Dunham, Denise Swan, and Mary Stone present. Several upcoming events were discussed including the West Paris-Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary combined meeting and supper in June, hosted by Greenwood this time, and the Bethel Senior Citizen dinner later in the season. They also discussed giving a donation to Project Graduation. Because of Memorial Day, the May meeting will be held on the 18th. Charlie and Jeannette Knight took their oldest granddaughter, Dianne Campbell, out to dunner at Barjo's one Sunday and then back to USM at getting mighty sick and tired of feeling Gorham. Dianne has about two more to work as a CNA at the Norway Nurs-

This past week was school vacation so children have been enjoying it riding bleycles around. They will be back in school before this is printed. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements took their vacation by flying to Florida, where they visited Mrs. Clements' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Harvey in Zephyrhills. They visited Epcot Center, Cypress Gardens and Kennedy Space Center. They arrived home Sunday, April 26. They saw alligators and armadillo and other animals.

Dayld Clements is speaker at the next historical society meeting at Bryant Pond in May.

Olive Davis was in Bridgton Sunday where she called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur make them and in memory of those who. Andrews and sister Lillian Harmon. Other visitors there were Mrs. Richard Goldsmith and two daughters, Daphne and Julie, and Mark Andrews.

Other news from Charlie and Jeannette Knight is that they visited Beverly Sylvester in Andover one day recently and they had Easter breakfast with Marianne and family in East Waterford. If anyone has any advice to offer on how to get rid of these virus colds making the rounds please let me know. I've had the third one in five weeks and I'm sick and tired. I'm not sure my ears, nose behave if and when I ever get back to normal (whatever that is) but after all this time one begins to wonder if there is any getting over them at all. Very discouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lescault and Mark Jr. spent several days recently with his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tetreault, Nichole and Leo Jr. in Pawtucket, R.I. While there they attended the wedding and reception of Diane's cousin Leonard Cinq-Mars at the Biltmore Hotel and ballroom in Providence. The week of the floods they had spent with his parents in West Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Earlon Keniston were callers here Monday evening. Monday Mrs. Elmira Doyen drove me to Rumford for x-rays. I have been confined to the house since with a broken bone in my foot.

Mrs. Ethel Turner and children, of Otisfield, and Mrs. Dottie Adams, Derek and Erin, of Hanover, came Sunday afternoon and we all enjoyed cake and ice cream to celebrate my birthday. My many beautiful cards were much appreciated.

Our power was off Thursday forenoon for four hours. Some of the neighbors had not had any power from Tuesday midnight till Thursday afternoon due to the heavy wet snowfall. Now what can we expect for a weather surprise?

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons were in Gorham, N.H., Thursday. Friday evening they attended the Gould Academy dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders at the Philbrook Farm in Shelburne, N.H.

Mrs. Lawrence Kimball spent this week at her home here. Mrs. Edroy Curtis visited with me Saturday.

Greenwood City By COLISTA MORGAN

A few days ago I rode by a small secluded place which I have visited many times. Today it was different for someone had changed its "dress", combed the tangle from its hair and put on a new face. The Greenwood Cattle Pound had been cleaned and restored. A century and more ago every Maine town had its pound, so named because of its function as impounding device to keep stray cattle and other animals from wandering into Mrs. Swain's petunia garden, becoming permanently lost with another farmer's animals, or perhaps causing bodily harm to innocent citizens who did nothing to warrant such an infliction. It is a lamentable fact that only about 15 pounds remain in our Pine Tree State today.

The main figure behind the operation of a town pound was the keeper. Although some of these keepers acquired their jobs by going after them and winning in town election, many do not realize that the job was often bestowed upon unwilling persons in a manner which reminds one of the similar selection for jury duty. True, the draftee usually met the qualifications of stalwartness, but occasionally provided laughter for the village gossips when the newest-wed and least-prepared male was selected, until it came their turn to be called to serve. These were 24-hour days and 7-day weeks, which seldom experienced a dull moment.

While dealing with animals was usually an encumbering job, dealing with their owners proved often to be an even more demanding task. Some farmers were not above such mendacious tricks as claiming animals which did not belong to them. They sometimes visited the pound on a cloudy night claiming their strays and avoiding paying their fine.

Pound keepers tried to guard against this by keeping records of each animal and living adjacent to the pound, but even then were outloxed by a crafty farmer. Often, too, he ignored posted notices which resulted in a public auction. Then the proceeds would be appropriated for damages and the care of the animals

As the 19th century moved into the 20th the invention of electric fences and barbed wire kept the farm animals on their own territory.

The curious old structure gradually fell into disuse but some were saved by interested citizens or historical societies. Man, then, was largely to blame for the pounds' sad destruction in history. Meanwhile persons like me who enjoy seeing these remaining miniature Stonehenges standing nearby, must be contented with hope and the storiessome true, and some questionable - that have come down from generation to generation around these village pounds.

Gilead By LOUISE LORING

So far Mother Nature has zapped us with her bag of tricks, just before the opening, and on the first of each new month! Last month, it was the flood and at the close of April, the unexpected snowstorm. Perhaps something looled even Mother Nature, because I am sure my poor daffodils and tulips didn't expect to become deluged with heavy wet blankets of snow either. Under the circumstances, one does not dare say that winter is over, but in my wildest dreams I continue to envision the cat sitting in the green grass under a clear blue sky with early butterflies flitting in the warm air, while pupples chase them, with flowers, buds and soft new leaves dripping from the trees. So until the fields smell sweet and daisies and buttercups splatter the landscape and in every branch birds are nesting and singing their sweet tunes of victory, keep the faith and remember patience is a virtue. This, too, shall pass!

Kenny Newell is now recovering from his fifth heart attack at the home of his mother, Marion Kimball. We all miss your smiling face at the store, Kenny, and will be pleased to hear when you are well on the road to recovery. During this last storm, Gilead was again without power from 3 a.m. until about 11 o'clock on April 29. Dale and Tammy Kott progressing rapidly on the new home they are building on the North Road, and soon will be able to move in with their family. Much happiness is wished for

There will be a meeting May 14 for parents of next year's kindergartners. The meeting, at 7 p.m. in Crescent Park School, will feature kindergarten teachers explaining the junior and regular kindergarten programs. They will answer any questions parents have.

Parents of prospective kindergartners will also have the opportunity to make appointments for next fall's EPSF reening. Children in town, who enjoyed last week's vacation, are now back in school studying vigorously. Without having had a grosbeak all winter to feed, I was surprised to see them during this last storm. They hopped upon the window ledges and peeked inside, so expectantly. As I did not have any sunflower seeds to offer them, I was pleased to hear that when they arrived at Marion Kimball's, she went to town and got some for them. She reports that she is feeding mourning doves, purple finches and juncos at this writing.

Last Saturday, or least on the 25th, my husband and I took a ride down the back side from Shelburne. As we passed Lary Brook, there were a pair of the common mergansers (fish-eating diving ducks). What a companionable sight as they lazily drifted along the high water. Corrections in last week's news: Max-

Tri-Town Rescue

On Saturday, May 9, Tri-Town will join the Pleasant Pond Grange, in West Sumner, in sponsoring a Bean Hole bean supper. This semi-annual event precedes the Old Time Parisian's dance and is always very popular. There is always plenty of food, and plenty of fun, so why not mark your calendar now so that you don't forget this special night.

Tri-Town Search and Rescue will be meeting at the new building at Trap Corner on Tuesday, May 12. Ken would like to have a good turnout at this meeting, as it is time to make plans for the summer months.

On May 17, Sunday, we will be sponsoring our annual Walk-a-Bike-a-thon. This will start at the Agnes Gray School, in West Paris, follow Rte. 219 to Greenwood City, and then back the same route to the school, for a total of 10 miles. The sponsor sheets are available now for this walk, they can be picked up at any of the local schools, or from a Tri-Town member. Come join us for some great exercise, and make a contribution to a good cause at the same time.

The annual newsletters are also available, and sometime in the next month, someone should be knocking on your door with one. The Life Vial sheets will be with the newsletters, and anyone with medical problems, or anyone who lives alone, should fill one out. They make it much easier for all concerned when an emergency occurs. If you don't have a copy of this, or if you need a new one, give Jane or Dorene a call. The interior work at the new Trap Corner barn is nearly completed. Volunteers are painting the garage floor; then it's just a matter of waiting until the carpet comes in. All the interior work should be done by the May 31 open house. The building looks great already, and everyone is proud of it and very anxious to move in. Plan to come and view the new home of Tri-Town Rescue Sunday, May 31, at 1 p.m.

Rotary Club sponsoring car wash for benefit of Spanish youth exchange

The Bethel Rotary Club is holding a car wash on Saturday, May 16, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the SAD #44 bus garage. Headed by Rotarian Bruce Powell, the cost is $2 per vehicle. This is the first of a series of fundraising events the Rotary has planned to pay for the July 11-25 visit of 20 children and five adult chaperones coming from Miljas, Spain. Also, a bikea-thon is scheduled for June 6, and a public supper planned for a date to be announced.

Many families, individuals, businesses, and non-profit organizations are contributing in some way to offset the bill for this exciting exchange. However, Rotary President Dave Preble still expects the costs to exceed $1,200 and is setting a goal of $1,500 for fundraising for the first part of the exchange. The bulk of the expense will be SAD #44 bus transportation to and from the airport and to daily activities, and picnic lunches during their two-week stay. To help with the latter, the Bethel Inn and Bethel Lions club have each agreed to provide for a lunch for the Spanish guests.

The second half of the exchange will occur during the summer of 1988 when Bethel Rotary will send an equal delegation of young adults to Aillias, Their hous ing will be provided for in Spain but funds

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Although April has been a sleepy month in the area there has been quite a lot of activity at the office of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce.

The census forms for the Blue Cross/Blue Shield Plan have been sent off and we are waiting to hear from them as to the rate. The new brochures are being printed this week and "Mac" MacMunn will be going to Lewiston to pick up 20,000 of them! Inquiries are coming into the office at quite a rate-so we're anxious to get them in. Thanks, "Mac", and also to the brochure committee who worked so hard to put it together. Plans are completed for the annual awards banquet, May 15, at the Bethel Inn. The chamber will be presenting annual awards as well as having the opportunity to hear well-known actress Jayne Kennedy (see separate article) Ticket sales have been really good-so please get yours early at the chamber office or from one of the other outlets. Mollyockett Day plans are underway

"Ronald McDonald" will be participating again this year and the chamber will again be having a food booth on the Cornmon. We are looking for volunteers to build a float and man the booth so please call the office, 824-2282 if you'd like to

The Trustees of the society and the Long-Range Planning Committee held a joint meeting recently to review the report of the committee and to discuss strategies for its implementation. at 824-2908. One does not hear very often the terms 'milliner" or "millinery shop" today but in the 19th century and in the early decades of the 20th, they were common, even in the smallest communities. A milliner specializes in the design, manufacture or sales of women's headwear and in Bethel there were several millinery shops, usually operated by women. One of the best documented shops was operated by Mary J. Clark on Church Street in the 1870s. In 1883 it was noted in a list of Bethel business establishments that there were five millinery shops in Bethel. Two sisters with the last name Curtis operated a millinery shop in Bethel from the 1870s until 1900. Probably Bethel's best known milliner was Miss E.E. Burnham who began her business in the Rowe Block (now the site of the Bethel Fire Station). She later moved (1892) to the second floor of the Cole Block and then to the first floor enow the site of the Bethel town office) where she continued until 1904. Miss L.M. Stearns was a noted milliner in the old First National building on Main Street (now the site of Casco Bank). She continued her business later in the brick block near the corner of Main and Broad Streets, now owned by attorney Gordon Gillies, until 1932.

Oxford Union Association holds annual meeting

The Oxford Union Association of the Maine Conference, United Church of Christ, held its annual meeting Sunday afternoon at the United Congregational Church in Oxford. Presiding at the meeting was the outgoing moderator, Steve Wight of West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. During the business meeting the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year: moderator, Rev. Anita White, Poland; vice-moderator, Silver Leamon, Locke Mills; scribe, Rev. Brendon Bass, Bethel; treasurer, Rev. Norman Rust, West Bethel and Albany. Also chosen were members and chairmen of the committees that carry on the work of the association which represents 28 UCC churches in Oxford County.

Following the business meeting, Rev. Jean Bass of Bethel and the Christian Education Committee led a program on Adult Education: Beyond Sunday School. The program included discussion of adult christian education opportunities and workshops on these topics: Video Opportunities for Christian Ed, Keregma: Adult Bible Study for All, and Personal Faith Exploration.

A delicious chicken ala king supper was served by the Oxford church followed by a worship service led by John Ellis of Norway. Featured during the service Eleanor Nelson and Eleanor Smith as ing luncheon and any interested person was the ceremony of licensure of Ellis Carr, as minister of the Mechanic Falls and Oxford churches.

Gould seniors start school-end projects

Gould Academy seniors have the opportunity to terminate their classes three weeks before graduation and participate in the school's Senior May Project

Program. Over half the class will spend their time pursuing a topic, project, course or job not normally covered in the formal curriculum at the independent boarding school. Upon successful completion of their regular studies and final exams, the participants will begin projects both on and off the Gould campus.

A typical senior project is that of Kevin Hunsberger, a four-year Gould student from Damariscotta. Kevin has been taking flying lessons and wishes to pursue a career in aviation. He will spend four days at the Brunswick Naval Air Station looking at the military side of flying. Included in his stay at the base will be a flight in the P-3 Orion, a submarinehunter aircraft, and an opportunity to try out the flight simulator. He will study civilian aviation at the airports in Wiscasset, Augusta and Portland. During this time there will be flying lessons and observing operations at Delta Airlines.

Other senior projects held off campus will include teaching internships in elementary and secondary schools; participating in an Outward Bound course in Colorado; working as a YMCA assistant; studying rural emergency medicine; hospital management; building a kayak, town planning through an attitudinal survey; working in a psychiatric ward; and volunteer work with Southeast Asian refugees in Philadelphia,

On-campus projects include linoleum block printing; computer programming for the Gould library; layout and editing of the school's yearbook; model rockery; organizing a school newspaper; freelance photography; compiling data for Head Start; and working as a veterinanian's assistant.

At the completion of the program, on May 20, each student will present his or her project to the rest of the school through exhibits, reports, journals, pictures and/or demonstrations. Gould faculty member Jay "Mac" Davis coordinates the Senior May Program.

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

It's not fair to have two April Fool's Days in April, but we had them and we survived. The asparagus froze and the large bed of daffodils and jonquils was flattened and as I write these few items, they are still flat. Maybe it will be warmer now. Just can't win.

Eveline Vatcher went to Stephens Memorial Hospital for x-rays and blood test. No pneumonia fluid around the lung. The first supper sponsored by the Community Club was a success and we had lots of food ready. A lady from the Citizen came and took a picture of the help. Doris Lawrence was one of the coordinators, but was absent from the photo as she had just left to attend a birthday supper honoring Mrs. Lena Dean.

Joe Kalinowski came to "Big Rock" May 7 for several weeks and to attend the heart and cancer dance at West Sumner May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott flew to Boulder, Col., May 5 to attend the wedding of his step-son, Robert Faulkingham. They will be gone for a week. Mrs. Lena Kangas, West Paris, grandmother of Robert, has been in Colorado a few weeks and will stay until after the wedding.

Lenwood "Pete" Andrews called on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher Thursday afternoon and left "This is My Life" for them to read. It is very interesting. Callers at Lawrences: Ellen Coffin,

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Arnold Coffin, Richard Felt and Stanley Heath.

Nathan Ilsley remains at Stephens Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Ilsley goes every day to feed him his dinner and supper which is a very small meal.

What a week this has been! It seems that spring or summer was rather short with the snow that fell, starting Tuesday afternoon. Not so good to wake up to eight to ten inches of snow on Wednesday morning and no electricity. Russell and I were both awake at 4 a.m. and when the power went off at about 4:22 there was a bright flash of light. Neither of us knew what made it, just that there was the bright flash. Power didn't come back on so we tried to start our gas heater with no luck. Called the heating repair service at 7 a.m. and they came when they could and started the heater. It helped warm the place, but was rather stinky where it hadn't been run before and kind of stuffed me up. Russell hasn't felt the best for a few days, but insisted on shoveling snow enough from the driveway so we could get out as I had an appointment in North Bridgton. On the way home we decided to stop at his doctor's to see if he could get some help. After sending Russell for a blood test, the doctor decided he should be in the hospital, so that's where he is. He needs rest and attention, and hopefully the doctor can find his trouble better

Russell took advantage of the good weather during the weekend to make a cold frame. May not get to use it now, but only time will tell. I have spent time trying to do a little housecleaning and sewing. Went out to help Russell once in awhile. Joe Perham called on Tuesday afternoon, taking donations for the cancer fund and in talking, told us of an interesting incident. It seems that last Saturday while at their place on Moose Pond in North Paris, Joe and his wife Peg found a balloon. You have heard of children from some schools sending up balloons, I'm sure. This particular balloon had been released in Toronto. Canada, on Friday and they found it on Saturday. It had only taken 24 hours for the balloon to come to North Paris from Toronto. Rather amazing, I thought Joe said his wife was having the children in her class send letters to the children in Canada. It should be interesting for all

Woodstock Historical Society

Recently the movie "Dark Victory," with Bette Davis, was on TV as a re-run. It was magnificent. Many old movies now qualify as genuine historical documents, and their stars are legends in their own right. Take time to see them on TV or video. They are well worth the effort. Just think of the personalties who may be seen in old movies: Davis, Hepbum, Garbo, West, Monroe, Dietrich, Gable, Cooper, Fields, Astaire, Wayne, Bogart, etc. And, of course, many modern movies will one-day be classics—"Sophie's Choice" and "A Passage to India," for instance. So take time to see some movies

The next society program will be presented by David Clements on his trip to Antarctica, There will be slides and a a presentation.
